IN THE SOCIAL WORLD

Debutante Treas Were Yesterday's Chief Attractions.

The Honorable Lillian Pannecote and Mr. Bromley Entertained at Boundary Castle—The Daughters of the American Revolution
Achieve Another Brilliant Success.

Mrs. John B. Henderson, of Boundary Castle, gave a dinner last night in compliance to the Hon. Lillian Pannecote and her daughter, Mr. Robert Bromley, of the British Embassy. The company of young people that gathered around the great circular table, which was ablaze with roses of the dainty pink that is the favorite color of the hostess, were, in addition to the guests of honor, Miss Sybil Pannecote, the Misses Hay, the Misses Pannecote, Miss McMillan, Miss Wallach, Miss Gladys Foulke, Miss Edith Patten, Mr. and Mrs. Fraser, Mrs. Ellis, Mr. Lowther, Mr. Elliot, and Mr. Humphreys Owen, of the British Embassy; Senator Foster, Second Secretary of the Spanish Legation; Baron Muehlner, of the Austrian Legation; Colonel Michler, Mr. John Wilkins, Mr. Frank Andrews, Jr.; Mr. Edward Morgan, Jr.; and Mr. John B. Henderson, Jr.

Mrs. and Miss Biddle, of 1735 N Street, entertained at an afternoon tea yesterday in honor of Miss Julia Wood, of the Army circle, an attractive debutante of the season. The handsome drawing-room and reception hall were crisscrossed with numbers of bouquets presented to the debutante. Pink was the hue of the dainty tea table, presided over by Mrs. Storey and Miss Warden. The hostess and her young friends were assisted by Miss Biddle, Miss Senger, and Miss Mary Hopkins, also Mrs. Wood, mother of the debutante, who wore a girlish gown of cream white over rich silk and carried pink roses.

Another handsome debutante was welcomed into the social world yesterday at a 5 o'clock tea, when Mr. Joseph Romano Esdon presented her daughter, Miss Lorraine. The home, 1705 Q Street, was artistically decorated in pink and white, the color scheme being carried out in the confections and ices. The piano was literally covered with floral tributes sent by admiring friends. The mother and daughter were assisted in welcoming their many guests by Miss Alice Clarke, of Cleveland, and Miss Mable Frye, of Pittsburgh, both classmates of Miss Esdon. They were further assisted by Mrs. Palmer, Miss Tunstall, Miss Warner, Miss Pierce, Miss Hume, Miss Lyman, and Miss Elizabeth Esdon, the debutante's cousin. Mrs. Walcott and Mrs. Dalt presided at the tea table.

Miss Esdon, who is an exceptionally pretty girl, graduated from Vassar last June, and is an accomplished musician and linguist. Her coming out gown was a dainty creation of cream white embroidered net, with deep red roses in her dark hair and the two long-sleeved red roses which she carried added just enough color to brighten her beauty, which is of a striking brunette type. Many distinguished guests were present, official, diplomatic, and resident.

Representative and Mrs. Swann of Virginia, will not spend the winter at the Ritz, as has been their custom heretofore, but have taken the house 201 Massachusetts Avenue, which is admirably adapted to entertaining, and where, doubtless, his gracious young mistress will frequently dispense the hospitality for which the daughters of the Old Dominion are famed.

Mrs. Swann, Mrs. Yates, Mrs. De Witt, and other patrons of last season's dance club, which added so much to the pleasure of its members and their friends, are reorganizing for the winter, and will give a series of a series of hops early next month. The ladies also have in mind a matinee club for the season.

Mrs. Z. B. Vance has closed her country place in the mountains of North Carolina, and with her son, Mr. H. Martin, and family, have returned to the family residence in Massachusetts Avenue.

Miss Ethel Leupp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leupp, of Sixteenth Street, was introduced to society Thursday afternoon at a tea given by Mrs. Leupp, which brought together a large contingent from the social world. The debutante, in white organdy and lace, was introduced by her mother, who wore a handsome toilet of black. Assisting in receiving the guests were Mrs. Leupp's sister, Mrs. Lewis Marlock, of New York; Mrs. Charles Larrabee, Miss Salie Walker, Miss Alice Foster, and Miss Isabelle Gregory. The guests included Mrs. David J. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. C. Gates, Mrs. Archibald Hopkins, the Chinese Minister, Mrs. Tahir Johnson, Mrs. J. Stanley Brown, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hanes, Mrs. Greely, and Miss Adella Greely, and Mr. and Mrs. Jules Guthrie.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ebbs, of Philadelphia, will spend the winter in Washington. They have taken the house 1705 Rhode Island Avenue.

The first of a series of entertainments to be given during the winter by the Capitol Hill History Club, was held Tuesday evening, December 5, at the residence of Mr. Joseph Dugan, 313 East Capitol Street. The following programme was rendered: Recitations, by Rev. Henry M. Couder, D. D., chaplain of the House of Representatives; soprano solo, by Miss Simpson; violin and piano duets, by the Misses Chester; recitations, by Miss Jones; piano selections, by Miss Haver and Mr. Fry; feat of leg, erdemian, by Mr. Fry. Refreshments were also served. The following were present: Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Briggs, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Condit, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Cochran, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dugan, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Fletcher, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Gaston, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Hiltner, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Lee, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. McCarry, Rev. and Mrs. H. M. Couder, Dr. and Mrs. A. Patten, Dr. and Mrs. Sadler, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Deany, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Nelson, Mrs. John P. Clark, Mrs. Charles Crowell, Mrs. Powell, Mrs. E. J. Horne, Mrs. Charles Metcalf, Mrs. T. N. McLaughlin, Mrs. A. C. Webb, Mrs. Munger, Miss Grace Beattie, Miss Miss Jones, Miss Mabel Webb, Miss Cochran, Miss Clum, Miss Chester, Miss Matilda Chester, Mr. L. J. Farabee, and Mr. Fry.

Representative and Mrs. Grover are located at the Dover for the Congressional season.

The Daughters of the American Revolution in the District attracted hundreds of persons last night to the annual ball, which was followed by an artistic programme of musical numbers and tableaux, followed in turn by dancing, which was made delightfully pleasant by the puffed surface of the pink illuminated ballroom and the strains of an inspiring band. The ladies in their colonial costume, and the revolutionary relics displayed, gave a quiet attraction to the evening, which socially and financially proved to be equally as successful as the like entertainment of Thursday.

ROGERS TAKES HIS CHILD.

Alleged Abduction From the Conde
Home in Oswego, N. Y.

OSWEGO, N. Y., Dec. 8.—Lebbeus Harding Rogers, Jr., of New York, gave the local police authorities a lively run here today. He was wanted on a warrant charging him with kidnapping his infant daughter, seven months old, from the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Swift Conde, the baby's grandparents. Young Rogers arrived here from New York at 8 o'clock this morning, accompanied by a woman who wore a thick veil, and drove to the home of Mrs. Henry D. McCallister, where the woman alighted, Rogers proceeding to the Conde home two blocks away. He expressed a desire to see his baby daughter, and he was taken to the nursery where the child was in charge of a nurse. After taking the baby in his arms and talking pleasantly for a few moments he left the house with the child.

Swift Conde, his brother-in-law, hastened to police headquarters and obtained a warrant for the arrest of Rogers upon a kidnapping charge, but Rogers escaped to Syracuse.

Rogers married Miss Maria Dorrance Conde, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Swift Conde, at the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church, New York City, in the spring of 1888. In May last Mrs. Rogers gave birth to two daughters at the Conde home, in New York, and died a few days afterward. The body was buried here for burial, and Mrs. Conde took charge of the babies, one of which died in September. Rogers made his home with the Conde most of the year because of the trouble he had because of the death of his wife. Rogers was a falling out which called for his retirement from the family circle. The steps to apprehend and arrest Rogers have been abandoned, the local police authorities say.

PORTO RICAN RELIEF FUND.

The Work of Supplying Immediate Needs Now Ended.

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—From Bishop Benk of Porto Rico, the Central Relief Association of New York, of which Cornelius N. Bliss is chairman, and of which the Bank of North America treasurer, has just received word that the work of supplying immediate needs of the islanders who suffered from the great flood of last summer is over, although funds are still needed for those who are left entirely homeless and helpless.

The grand total of the relief fund was over $30,000. Out of this sum, $70,000 passed through the Bank of North America, and $20,000 through the Merchants' Association. The largest single contribution came through the "Catholic Herald," the amount being $18,000, or one-fifth of the entire fund. Other contributors were John D. Rockefeller, $2,000; John B. Claffin, $1,500; the Catholic Church of the Diocese of New York, $5,000; Charles B. Ruess, $1,000; Phelps Dodge & Co., $1,000; Chicago, $1,000; Boston, Philadelphia, and Baltimore, more than $2,000 each; the Stock Exchange, Produce Exchange, and Maritime Exchange, more than $1,000 each.

CAUSE OF PAIN'S FAILURE.

He Blames the Navy Department for His Trouble.

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—At the office of Pain's Fireworks Company, whose assignment with liabilities of $70,000 was announced yesterday, it was said today that the accident, from which a large number of damage suits resulted, so costly to the company's resources, and which occurred at Columbus, Ohio, last summer during a sham battle between the fleet of the Navy Department, from which the company bought a lot of shells, including some known as gallery cartridges, loaded with ball but not in any way distinguishable from the powder-loaded shells. It was added that while the Government was not directly to blame, it had undertaken an investigation of the firm from which the Navy Department obtained the shells.

If we are allowed any claim from the Government," it was said, "we shall have to obtain the consent of Congress to sue, which, of course, will be a long and tedious proceeding. The company is able to settle its debts and will carry on its business as usual."

GENERAL LOCKWOOD'S DEMISE.

The Interment Will Be in the Annapolis Cemetery.

The funeral services of the late Gen. Henry Hayes Lockwood, who died at his home, "Beaver Hall," 1628 Twenty-eighth Street, on Thursday last, will be held today at 10 o'clock at the family residence, and the interment made in the Naval Cemetery, Annapolis, at 2:15 this afternoon.

General Lockwood was a philanthropist and scholar, as well as a soldier. He was born in Kent county, Delaware, on August 17, 1814, and had had a distinguished career.

In 1836 he was graduated from West Point and appointed to the Second Artillery, then engaged in the Seminole war. On September 12, 1837, he resigned from the Army and took up agriculture in Delaware until 1841, when he was appointed professor of mathematics in the United States Navy and assigned to the frigate United States, on which vessel he participated in the capture of Monterey, Cal., in 1842. Upon his return he was sent to the Naval Academy as professor of natural and experimental philosophy. He was colonel of the First Delaware Regiment, and made a brigadier general of volunteers on August 8, 1861. He had command of Point Lookout, Va., and the defense of the Potomac until 1862, when he commanded a brigade at Gettysburg, and from December of that year until August, 1864, was in Baltimore in command of the Middle Department.

He took part in the Richmond campaign in May and June, 1864, and commanded the troops sent against Gen. Jubal A. Early, in July, 1864. He was promoted to major general on August 25, 1865, when he again took the work at Annapolis, being retired as commander on August 4, 1878.

He was the author of "Manual of Naval Batteries" and "Exercises in Small Arms and Field Artillery Arranged for the Naval Service," and was considered a high authority on matters of the gun. General Lockwood was of the highest type of vigorous manhood; of athletic mold and a sturdy physique that defied the encroachments of time. Until ten years ago, when he suffered an attack of the heart, he daily took long walks and other exercises. His handsome face and form marked him in any gathering, and he was beloved by a host of friends, among whom were an army of children—his keenest joy.

Six children survive, all of whom reside in this city. They are: Eliza B. Sigbee, wife of Captain Sigbee, of the Navy; Mrs. Anna L. Peck, wife of Commander Robert Peck, of the Navy; Mrs. Caroline B. Rittenhouse, wife of Mr. S. W. Rittenhouse; Mrs. Julia L. Orme, wife of Mr. William B. Orme; Miss Mary Murray Lockwood, and Mr. Henry Lockwood.

GRATITUDE OF A NATION

Bills Pending in Congress That Recognize Merit.

A Monument to Captain Gridley's
Memory Proposed—Bravery of Lieutenant Newcomb, of the Hudson, Is Praised—Splendid Deeds of Captain Hodgson—Other Heroes.

Under a pending joint resolution in Congress, the Secretary of the Navy is authorized to have erected in the Arlington National Cemetery a monument to the memory of Capt. Charles Vernon Gridley, who commanded the flagship Olympia in the battle of Manila Bay, and who died at Kobe, Japan, from disabilities incurred in service. The resolution carries an appropriation of $5,000.

Under a joint resolution introduced in the House of Representatives by Representative John Lamb of Virginia, $10,000 is asked for 1899 to erect a monument to the memory of Capt. Charles Vernon Gridley, who commanded the flagship Olympia in the battle of Manila Bay, and who died at Kobe, Japan, from disabilities incurred in service. The resolution carries an appropriation of $5,000.

Senator Frye of Maine has introduced in the Senate a joint resolution that the thanks of Congress shall be extended to First Lieut. Frank H. Newcomb, of the Revenue Cutter Service, commanding the revenue cutter Hudson, his officers, and men, "for their intrepid and heroic gallantry in the action at Cardenas, Cuba, May 18, 1898, when the Hudson rescued the torpedo boat Winslow in the face of a most gallant fire from the enemy's guns, the Winslow being disabled, her captain wounded, her only other officer (Ensign Worth Bagley) and half her crew killed."

The resolution recites that the commanding officer of the Hudson, and his crew, were in the center of the hottest fire of the action, although in danger of going ashore on account of the disabled ship, and that the vessel of the Hudson, and her crew, were in the center of the hottest fire of the action, although in danger of going ashore on account of the disabled ship, and that the vessel of the Hudson, and her crew, were in the center of the hottest fire of the action, although in danger of going ashore on account of the disabled ship.

A resolution is also pending, the object of which is to recognize the gallant and meritorious services of Capt. Daniel B. Hodgson, United States Revenue Cutter Service, while in command of the revenue cutter Hudson, under the command of Admiral Dewey at the battle of Manila Bay. Captain Hodgson is in his sixty-third year and has served continuously for thirty-seven years as an officer of the Revenue Cutter Service. The resolution asks that he be placed on the retired list, and on the duty pay of his grade.

Senator Frye has also introduced a joint resolution recognizing the services of Capt. Francis Tuttle, Revenue Cutter Service, and his officers and men of the cutter Bear, and the services of Lieut. David H. Jarvis, Lieut. Arthur P. Berthoff, and Dr. Samuel J. Call, of the overland expedition to Point Barrow, Arctic Ocean, for the relief of imperiled sailors. It is asked that gold medals shall be struck for these men because "of their heroic struggle of more than three months through the barren wastes of Arctic Alaska, in the depths of an Arctic winter, over nearly 2,000 miles of that desolate, dreary region, carrying relief and cheer to 250 distressed citizens of our country."

The sum of $2,000 is asked for the purpose of bestowing rewards upon W. T. Lopp, agent of the American Missionary Society of Cape Prince of Wales, Alaska; and upon the crew of the cutter Alaska, for aid rendered to the expedition.

Representative G. W. Smith of Illinois has introduced a joint resolution that the Secretary of the Treasury be authorized to present a medal similar to the life-saving medal of the first class to Lieut. Pidolet S. Carter, United States Navy, for his service in saving two persons from drowning at Port Monroe April 28, 1898.

Senator Hoar of Massachusetts has introduced a bill that the Secretary of War be authorized to present medals to the officers of the Fifty-fourth Regiment of Infantry, Massachusetts Volunteers, in recognition of their services in entering the first regiment of colored soldiers of African descent. In case of the death of such officers the medals shall be given to the widow or the oldest heir.

There has been referred to the committee on the Library a bill introduced by Senator Gallinger of New Hampshire appropriating $40,000 for the erection at Manchester, N. H., of an equestrian statue of Maj. Gen. John Stark.

TIN-PLATE TESTIMONY.

Nathan A. Taylor Before the Industrial Commission.

The United States Industrial Commission yesterday heard the testimony of Nathan A. Taylor, of Philadelphia, of the N. & G. Taylor Company, manufacturers of tin plate. Mr. Taylor said his firm was a partnership, and not a corporation. It had been in existence for more than thirty-five years, but did not manufacture tin plate until 1894, when it was acquired by the Liberty Bells. His firm does not manufacture block plates, but intends to erect a mill for that purpose as soon as improvements in the manufacture are made. The block plate manufacture in America, he said, are superior to those made abroad.

Prices are no higher for tin plate now than they were six years ago, he said, and wages in the tin plate industry are generally good. No organized labor is connected with his mills, and the firm had never had labor difficulties.

His firm has no relation with the American Tin Plate Company, except that the company bought out a mill that had a contract to supply tin plate for the Navy for a number of years, and the American Tin Plate Company assumed the contract when it absorbed the block plate mill. The N. & G. Taylor Company, he said, is a partner with the American Tin Plate Trust.

A NEW POSTAL RULING.

Issue of an Order Governing Hand-Stamping.

Third Assistant Postmaster General Edwin C. Madden has issued the following rulings in regard to the hand-stamping of matter which passes through the mails: First—Impress made upon paper by hand-stamp (when not having the character of an actual and personal correspondence) are held to be valid for the purpose of the payment of 35 cents postage on letters of no more than 100 words.

Second—Impress by hand-stamp upon printed matter of the character of a circular, or other publication, except when the added print is in itself personal, or conversely that to which it is added is a personal communication, when such appears to be the fact, in either case, the presentation at one time at the post office of two such letters, each with a separate address is held to be sufficient evidence of imperious character to entitle such matter to the third-class rate of postage.

The order is said by Mr. Madden to be of greater importance than at first appears. Heretofore, he said, mail matter of this character has had no definite classification owing to the matter being neither written or printed as it is construed by the postoffice authorities. The present ruling, he said, will greatly facilitate the handling of this class of matter by the postmasters throughout the country, and will also be of great assistance to merchants in general.

OPPOSED TO UNION LABOR.

The Kansas City Typotheta Issues a Pica to Employers. INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Dec. 8.—President Samuel B. Donnelly, of the International Typographical Union, has just returned from Kansas City, where 200 printers are locked out.

He says the Kansas City Typotheta has issued an ultimatum against all union labor and in preparing to send a statement broadcast, calling on employers to combine for the purpose of "crushing out once and forever all trade unions."
